MEGAN & 'MANDO IN MEXICO update
~ seeking & serving God among & alongside those in Tijuana, Mexico ~

We wanted to send out our February 2014 update before the month is over...

We know that we haven't updated the Panes y Pececillos blog or Facebook page all month, but we have a good excuse :)

Our sweet daughter, Eliana Grace Hernandez Riggott, was born on February 1st!

Eliana is a Spanish name, but we actually chose it because of its meaning in Hebrew: "my God has answered"...

Grace comes from the Latin gratia, which means "[God's] favor or blessing"...

Our baby girl is most certainly an answer to prayer and a blessing from God!

~ ~

Panes y Pececillos updates!

While I took a little break from the breakfast club after Eliana was born, Armando didn't miss even one day! He was faithful to cook & serve the breakfasts on his own, even though he was probably even more short on sleep than I was! Armando was also excited to receive a donated gas barbeque with a griddle on top, meaning he can make 6 pancakes at a time (& in the new room) instead of just 4 on our kitchen stovetop!

Eliana & I ventured down to join the breakfast club crew for the first time yesterday morning... I wasn't sure how she would do, but she slept the entire time in her new ring sling :) I was even able to teach the Bible lesson before we served breakfast. It was fun to see new faces after not being there for a few weeks! (The picture above includes my mom, who is visiting, and Armando's sons, who often help with the breakfast club.)

We now have $350 in committed monthly donations! That's just over half of our goal... but with a group that is now providing food (as well as coming down to cook & serve!) once each month, the blessing of newly donated food, & some creative ideas as to how to stretch our resources, we've been able to continue serving breakfast twice a week! If you'd like to donate: check out our blog or FB page, or contact me (Megan)...

blog: panesypececillos.blogspot.com ~ Facebook page: facebook.com/panesypececillos